(Substantial rewording of subsection. See subsection 627.031-(2), Florida Statutes, for present text.)

627.031 Purpose of Part I; Interpretation.—

(2) It is the purpose of this part to protect policyholders and the public against the adverse effects of excessive, inadequate or unfairly discriminatory motor vehicle insurance rates, and to encourage independent action by and reasonable price competition among insurers.

Section 2. It is hereby declared to be the intent of the legislature to repeal the so-called California plan, insofar as it applies to motor vehicle insurance as defined in section 627.070, Florida Statutes, until a more permanent and broad program of automobile insurance reform can be adopted. This act is designed to assure the public that adequate automobile insurance protection will be available to the citizens of Florida at reasonable prices.

Section 3. Section 627.062, Florida Statutes, is amended by adding new subsection (4) to read:

627.062 Rate standards.—

(4) Subsection (2) of this section shall not apply to motor vehicle insurance as defined in section 627.070, Florida Statutes.

Section 4. Chapter 627, Florida Statutes, is amended by adding new section 627.070, to read:

627.070 Motor vehicle insurance defined.—For the purposes of this part "motor vehicle insurance" means a policy of automobile or motor vehicle insurance delivered or issued for delivery in the state by an authorized insurer:

(1) Insuring a natural person as named insured or one or more related individuals resident of the same household, or both, and

(2) Insuring a motor vehicle of the private passenger or station wagon type which is not used as public or livery conveyance for passengers or rented to others or insuring any other four-wheeled motor vehicle having a capacity of fifteen hundred (1500) pounds or less which is not used in the occupation, profession, or business of the insured other than farming, and

(3) Other than any policy:

(a) Issued under an automobile insurance assigned risk plan, or

(b) Insuring more than four automobiles, or

(c) Covering garages, automobile sales agency, repair shop, service station, or public parking place operation hazards.

Section 5. Chapter 627, Florida Statutes, is amended by adding new section 627.080, to read:

627.080 Motor vehicle insurance; rate filings; adherence to filings.—

(1) As to motor vehicle insurance, an insurer shall file with the department every manual of classifications, rules and rates, and rating plan, as well as any modification of any of the foregoing which it proposes to use.

(2) Each filing shall state the proposed effective date thereof, and shall indicate the character and extent of the coverage contemplated. The insurer shall have the burden of proof to sustain the filing. If a filing is not accompanied by sufficient supporting information, the department within fifteen (15) days after the date of receipt of filing, shall require the insurer to furnish further relevant information supporting the filing. If further information is required, the waiting period provided for in section 627.081 shall commence as of the date such information is received by the department. The information furnished in support of a filing shall include:

(a) The experience or judgment of the insurer making the filing;

(b) The insurer's interpretation of any statistical data it relies upon;

(c) The experience of other insurers or rating organizations, if applicable;

(d) The most recent certified financial statement of the insurer making the filing; and

(e) Any other factors which the insurer or the department deems relevant.

(3) A filing and supporting information shall be open to public inspection as provided in section 627.081.

(4) No insurer or employee thereof, and no agent shall make or issue a contract or policy of motor vehicle insurance except in accordance with the filings which are in effect for such insurer, as provided in this part, or in accordance with section 627.171 (excess rates) of this code.

Section 6. Chapter 627, Florida Statutes, is amended by adding new section 627.081, to read:

627.081 Motor vehicle insurance; when filing becomes effective; hearing as to filing.—

(1) The department shall review motor vehicle insurance filings as soon as reasonably possible to determine if they meet the applicable requirements of this part.

(2) Within fifteen (15) days after the date of receipt of the filing or the filing of additional information requested by the department under section 627.080(2), the department shall place the filing and its supporting information on file for public inspection, and give notice thereof to the insurer making the filing. Prior to public inspection the filing shall be deemed a privileged communication not open to public inspection; but this provision shall not prohibit any insurer from discussing, or require any such insurer to discuss, any such filing.

(3) A filing which the department has placed on file for public inspection as provided in subsection (2) shall so remain on file for fifteen (15) days (counting such filing date as the first day of such public inspection period), and shall not be approved or disapproved, or become effective during such fifteen-day period except after a public hearing set by the department, either upon his own motion or at the request of the insurer. Within such fifteen-day period the department may, if it determines it to be in the public interest, hold a public hearing to determine whether the filing meets the requirements of this chapter. If a public hearing is set, the department shall give notice of such hearing to the insurer making the filing, and the effectiveness of the filing shall be subject to the further order of the department as provided in subsection (6) of this section. If not approved or disapproved after a public hearing or set for future public hearing by the department, the filing shall become effective at 12:01 a.m. on the sixteenth day or upon such subsequent date as provided in the filing.

(4) An insurer, at the time it makes a filing with the department, may request a public hearing thereon. In such event the department shall forthwith place the filing on file for public inspection and shall give notice of the hearing, and otherwise hold and conduct the hearing as provided in subsection (6). The effectiveness of the filing shall be subject to the department's order made following the hearing.

(5)(a) If the department approves a filing it shall give prompt written notice thereof to the insurer making the filing, and in which case the filing shall become effective upon such approval or upon such subsequent date as may be satisfactory to the department and the insurer that made the filing.

(b) If an insurer files notice of appeal pursuant to 627.391 of the department's order disapproving a filing, it may place the filing in effect, pending final adjudication, provided however, that the insurer shall make any refunds including interest that the court may direct if the department's disapproval is upheld. Any refunds, including interest that the court may direct, not refunded to or claimed by the insured within two (2) years of the date of final adjudication, shall be considered abandoned, and shall escheat to the state pursuant to Chapter 717. In such cases, if the commissioner finds that there is doubt as to the ability of the insurer to respond to a court order directing refunds, the commissioner may require a bond to be posted to secure the payment of any refund, including interest, that the court may direct should the commissioner's disapproval be upheld.

(6)(a) If, pursuant to subsection (3), the department holds a public hearing as to a filing, or holds a public hearing pursuant to request under subsection (4), he shall give to the insurer written notice thereof not less than ten (10) days prior to the date of the hearing. He shall hold such hearing within thirty (30) days after commencement of the public inspection period. Unless the filing is disapproved within 30 days after the commencement of the hearing the filing shall be deemed approved. The department shall also give public notice of the hearing in daily newspapers of general circulation in one or more counties of this state. This notice shall be published not less than ten (10) days prior to the hearing date, and shall specify the date, place and time of the hearing, the nature of the hearing, and the name of the individual insurer or insurers whose rates will be affected by the filing.

(b) The hearing shall be conducted and the order thereon issued in conformity with Part II of Chapter 120, Florida Statutes.

(c) Any order of the department shall be subject to judicial review as provided in section 627.391, Florida Statutes.

Section 7. Chapter 627, Florida Statutes, is amended by adding new section 627.082, to read:

627.082 Motor vehicle insurance; basis of approval or disapproval of filing.—

(1) In determining at any time whether to approve or disapprove a filing as to motor vehicle insurance, or to permit the filing otherwise to become effective, the department shall give consideration to where applicable, consistent with sound actuarial principles, the following factors:

(a) Past and prospective loss and expense experience within and outside this state,

(b) Catastrophe hazards,

(c) A reasonable margin for underwriting profit and contingencies,

(d) Dividends, savings or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members or subscribers,

(e) Whether or not rates are excessive, inadequate or unfairly discriminatory. Rates shall be deemed excessive if they are likely to produce a long run profit that is unreasonably high in relation to the riskiness of the class of business, or if expenses are unreasonably high in relation to services rendered. Rates shall be deemed inadequate if they are clearly insufficient, together with the investment income attributable to them, to sustain projected losses and expenses in the class of business to which they apply. One rate shall be deemed unfairly discriminatory in relation to another in the same class if it clearly fails to reflect equitably the difference in expected losses and expenses,

(f) Investment income on unearned premium reserves and loss reserves,

(g) Past and prospective expenses both country-wide and those specifically applicable to this state,

(h) Cost of repairs to automobiles,

(i) Cost of medical services (including hospital),

(j) Adequacy of loss reserves,

(k) Cost of reinsurance,

(l) Loss adjustment expense,

(m) Reasonable legal costs,

(n) Trend factors,

(o) Competition as measured by:

1. The number of insurers and agents actively engaged in writing private passenger automobile insurance;

2. The existence of rate difference in such insurance;

3. Whether profitability from such insurance in this state for insurers generally is unreasonably high in relation to the risk involved, and

(p) Other relevant factors including judgment factors, within and outside this state.

(2) The commissioner's order granting or denying approval of the rate filing shall contain findings of fact and conclusions of law relative to the above criteria.

(3) The systems of expense provisions included in the rates for use by an insurer or groups of insurers may differ from those of other insurers or groups of insurers to reflect the requirements of the operating methods of any such insurer or group with respect to any kind of insurance or with respect to any subdivision or combination separate expense provisions are applicable.

(4) Risks may be grouped by classifications for the establishment of rates and minimum premiums. Classification rates may be modified to product rates for individual risks in accordance with rating plans which establish standards for determining variations in hazards or expense provisions, or both. Such standards may measure any difference among risks that can be demonstrated to have a probable effect upon losses or expenses. Such classifications and modifications shall apply to all risks under the same or substantially the same circumstances or conditions.

Section 8. Chapter 627, Florida Statutes, is amended by adding new section 627.083, to read:

627.083 Motor vehicle insurance; subsequent disapproval of filing; appeal by insureds and others as to filing approved without hearing.—

(1) If at any time after a filing has been approved, or has otherwise become effective, the department finds, after a hearing held on not less than twenty (20) days written notice specifying the matters to be considered at the hearing and given to every insurer which made the filing, that the filing no longer meets the requirements of this part, he shall issue an order specifying in what respects he finds that such filing fails to meet such requirements. The order shall also state when, within a reasonable period thereafter, such filing shall no longer be effective. The department shall send a copy of the order to every such insurer. The order shall not affect any insurance contract or policy made or issued prior to the expiration of the period set forth in the order.

(2)(a) Any person or organization other than the insurer who made the filing, aggrieved with respect to any motor vehicle insurance filing which has been approved without a hearing, may within thirty (30) days after the date of such approval make written application to the department for a hearing thereon. Such application shall specify the grounds to be relied upon by the applicant.

(b) If the department finds that the application is made in good faith, that the applicant would be so aggrieved if his grounds are established, and that such grounds otherwise justify holding a hearing, he shall, within thirty (30) days after receipt of such application, hold a hearing upon not less than ten (10) days written notice to the applicant and to the insurer who made such filing.

(c) If, after such hearing, the department finds that the filing does not meet the applicable requirements of this part, he shall issue an order specifying in what respects he finds that such filing fails to meet such requirements, and stating when, within a reasonable period thereafter, such filing shall be deemed no longer effective. Copies of the order shall be sent to the applicant and to every such insurer. The order shall not affect any contract or policy made or issued prior to the expiration of the period set forth in the order.

(d) Any person or organization denied a hearing, or who after such hearing suffers an adverse order, may appeal from such order as provided by section 627.391. The department and the insurer which made the filing shall be parties to such appeal.

Section 9. Chapter 627, Florida Statutes, is amended by adding new section 627.084, to read:

627.084 Motor vehicle insurance; information to be furnished insureds; appeal by insureds.—

(1) As to motor vehicle insurance, every insurer, within a reasonable time after receiving written request therefor, shall furnish to any insured affected by a rate made by it or to the authorized representative of such insured, upon payment of a reasonable charge deemed to be reasonable by the Insurance Commissioner of the State of Florida, all pertinent information as to such rate.

(2) As to motor vehicle insurance, every insurer shall provide within this state reasonable means whereby any person aggrieved by the application of its rating system may be heard, in person or by his authorized representative, on his written request to review the manner in which such rating system has been applied in connection with the insurance afforded him. If the insurer fails to review such request within thirty (30) days after it is made, or rejects the petitioner's position, the petitioner may appeal to the department, who after a hearing held upon not less than ten (10) days written notice to the petitioner and to such insurer, may affirm, modify, or reverse the application of the rating system to the petitioner.

Section 10. Implementation of this act.— Every manual of classifications, rules and rates and every rating plan in effect on October 9, 1970, relating to motor vehicle insurance shall be the lawful classifications, rates, rules and rating plans until changed in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Nothing contained in the provisions of this section or any other portions of this act shall prevent the commissioner from acting pursuant to this act on rates heretofore established.

Section 11. Sections 5, 6, 8, 9 and 10 of this act shall be automatically repealed on November 1, 1971.

Section 12. This act shall take effect immediately upon becoming law.
